

This is a black and white aerial photograph of a rural landscape, likely a river valley. A winding river flows from the bottom left towards the center right. The surrounding land is divided into a patchwork of agricultural fields. Handwritten annotations are present throughout the image. At the top left, the text '8-11-41 ST-2B-162 ↑' is written. On the left side, near the river, is the label '2B-163'. On the right side, further up, is '2B-161'. Within the river and adjacent fields, numerous numbers are written, including 152, 177, 225, 184, 108, 176, 175, 315, and 137-1-1. Some numbers are accompanied by small symbols, such as a circle with a dot or a cross. The letters 'GP' and 'P. 375' are also visible near the river. The overall scene depicts a typical agricultural landscape from the mid-20th century.
